

MEDIA = VIRUS

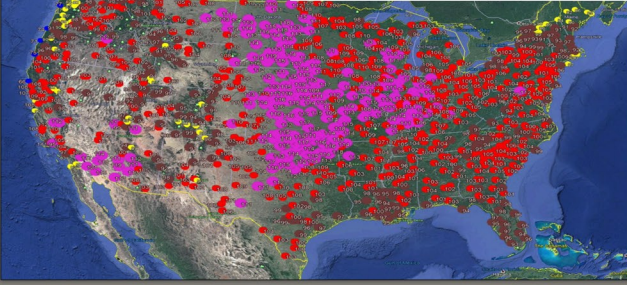

The Climate Change Cult (CCC) would like us all to believe that we are responsible for rising sea levels by 20 meters and temperature increases of 2°C and that we will get heat strokes, that there are too many people on this planet and that we are destructive and we should stop eating meat. It's all our fault. These dark and depressed members of the CCC are liars, cheats and fraudsters who are probably financially dependant on the green energy industry who need increased control and power.

Record-breaking June 2021 heatwave impacts the U.S. West
Author: Tom Di Liberto
June 23, 2021

An early summer heatwave across the western United States broke all-time records in multiple states, with temperatures above 100 degrees Fahrenheit for days on end in some places. This event marked yet another climate extreme for residents of a region already suffering through a devastating drought and with memories of last year's horrific wildfire season likely still fresh on people's minds.

The three maps on the left are self-explanatory.
Now look at the graph below them.

Do you see a clear climate crisis problem?

Neither do I. There is none.

Merkel: "Müssen schneller werden im Kampf gegen den Klimawandel"

Angela Merkel (Chancellor of Germany): Climate change has caused the recent flooding. Helmut Lüssi (Mayor of Schuld - a town devastated by the recent flooding): In 1790 we had disaster flooding in the area. That had nothing to do with climate change. In 1910 another flooding happened and was similar in size to the recent one in July 2021. Merkel: uhhh... vielen dank...

Air Pollution Makes COVID-19 More Deadly
APRIL 15, 2020

FROM THE EXPERTS
BY RASHMI JOGLEKAR, STAFF SCIENTIST

Staff Scientist Rashmi Jogekar explains how a new Harvard study adds to a growing pile of evidence that we must enforce stricter regulations on toxic emissions to save lives.

As the coronavirus tears through communities around the world, a new Harvard study has shown that long-term exposure to fine particulate matter, a component of air pollution, is linked to a greater chance of dying from COVID-19. The results add to a growing body of evidence that we must adopt and enforce stricter regulations on toxic releases in order to save lives. Yet the Trump administration seems adamant about doing the opposite.

The study, which was released pre-publication, shows a striking association between long-term exposure to harmful fine particulate matter, called PM2.5, and COVID-19 mortality in the United States. The primary cause of PM 2.5 pollution is combustion from car engines and coal or gas power plants. Researchers highlighted that in counties affected by COVID-19, just a small increase in PM 2.5 pollution is associated with a large increase in COVID-19 death rate.

Dear Christine Massey:

This is in response to your request made under the Access to Information Act (the Act) for the following information:

All records describing the isolation of a SARS-COV-2 virus, directly from a sample taken from a diseased patient, where the patient sample was not first combined with any other source of genetic material (i.e. monkey kidney cells aka vero cells; liver cancer cells).

Please note that I am using "isolation" in the every-day sense of the word: the act of separating a thing(s) from everything else. I am not requesting records where "isolation of SARS-COV-2" refers instead to:

- the culturing of something, or
- the performance of an amplification test (i.e. a PCR test), or
- the sequencing of something.

To clarify, I am requesting all such records that are in the possession, custody or control of Health Canada (for example: downloaded to a computer, printed in hard copy, etc.).

Having completed a thorough search, we regret to inform you that we were unable to locate any records responsive to your request.

Should you have any questions or concerns about the processing of your request, please do not hesitate to contact Barbara Haase, the analyst responsible for this file, either by phone at 613-859-9073, by email at barbara.haase@canada.ca or by fax at 613-941-4541, with reference to our file number cited above.

Please be advised that you are entitled to complain to the Office of the Information Commissioner of Canada concerning the processing of your request within 60 days of the receipt of this notice. In the event you decide to avail yourself of this right, your notice of complaint can be made online at: <https://www.oic-ci.gc.ca/en/submitting-complaint> or by mail to:

Obeying the WHO only?

Government spent most of its time in court arguing that it is not necessary for them to show the virus to anyone.

Despite Maarmann's assertions, scientists worldwide have sequenced the genomes of all variants of SARS-CoV-2, including the new South African variant, and the existence of the virus is entirely undisputed within the scientific community. The virus can also be observed with an electron microscope.

No claims, just asking for proof

If Maarmann's case does indeed reach the Constitutional Court, it will likely be dismissed due to his entirely unsubstantiated claims.

A SIMPLE QUESTION

Asked in both Canada and South Africa (sofar): Does the actual SARS-CoV2 that causes Covid19 virus exist?

Most will simply assume it does and rightfully so.

Let's put this question to bed by supplying unwaivered proof.

Did you know about this SA case brought before court? Not if you only read larger Main Stream Media houses. (except The Citizen)

This case was not important. You don't need to know this. Meghan Markle's new dress is much more important news.

Why did the South African government sidestep a high court order to produce proof of the SARS-CoV-2 virus?

Why did the South African government sidestep a high court order to produce proof of the SARS-CoV-2 virus? What comes next?

On 27th May 2021, Ricardo Maarmann approached the high court of South Africa in a landmark case requesting the government to produce proof of the SARS-CoV-2 virus in its isolated and purified form. Maarmann holds a master's degree in international politics and refers to himself as an ordinary and concerned South African citizen. Motivated by the devastating effects of the lockdowns on the population, Maarmann states, "the cost to our fragile economy is racking up: the removal of civil liberties, business closure, loss of lives, job losses and widespread unemployment..." as some of the reasons he decided to take action against Cyril Ramaphosa, Dr. Nkosazana Dlamini Zuma, Mr. Zweli Mkhize and Professor Salim Abdool Karim.
