

MEDIA = VIRUS

How can we possibly know that just a handful of people can control media and their reporting? Surely this is not possible? Well, it's very possible. This edition will show you how easy it could be to manipulate any scenario in your favour - big scale. The world's multi-nationals, foundations and organisations are linked. For this you would need some proof at least. We show you some here. First we are sketching a scenario. Sure, it's unlikely, yet entirely possible. It takes two meetings and a phone call to influence the entire world's social media. The second example is more realistic.

Power of the few - no1

QUOTE: I don't like that man. I must get to know him better - Abraham Lincoln

In the afternoon Bill phones Jack Dorsey (Twitter) and requests the same.

Should all three agree:
If two meetings and a phone call were successful, the world's social media is covered in one day to use the WHO as their only source of information.

Scenario example. Not to be taken literally. Or should we?

Power of the few - no2

Most information and articles is collected by the world's MSM from Reuters and the Associated Press. What is regarded as news at Reuters and AP, becomes instant news world-wide though 1000's of MSM publications. Meet James Smith CEO of Reuters et al.

“
As a company, we help to create the backbone of legal and tax systems, providing accurate information that supports objective and fair outcomes. We are a free press that seeks to inform and empower people around the world, sharing our skills and knowledge to support journalism's sustainable future.
”

Jim Smith
President and Chief Executive Officer
Thomson Reuters

Agenda Events Reports Platforms

WORLD ECONOMIC FORUM

Sign up

Jim Smith
President and CEO, Thomson Reuters

Jim began his career as a journalist and rose through the ranks at Thomson Newspapers to become responsible for operations in North America. He then led a number of professional publishing businesses serving the legal, regulatory and academic markets. He served as global head of Human Resources before becoming Chief Operating Officer of The Thomson Corporation. Following the acquisition of Reuters in 2008, Jim ran the Professional division of the combined company. He was named Chief Executive Officer in January 2012.

Jim is a director of Pfizer, Inc. He also serves on the board of the World Economic Forum's Partnering Against Corruption Initiative and is a member of the Forum's International Business Council, as well as on the International Advisory Boards of British American Business and the Atlantic Council.

Most Popular

Pfizer

Careers | Investors | News | Partners | Healthcare Profession

Your Health | Our Science | Our People | Our Purpose

OUR PEOPLE / Leadership / Board Members / Our experts

JAMES C. SMITH

Age: 62 years

Chairman of the Thomson Reuters Foundation, a London-based charity supported by the global news and information provider. President, Chief Executive Officer and Director of Thomson Reuters Corporation, a provider of intelligent information for businesses and professionals, from 2012 until his retirement in 2020. He also served as its Chief Operating Officer from September 2011 to December 2011 and Chief Executive Officer, Thomson Reuters Professional Division, from 2008 to 2011. Prior to the acquisition of Reuters Group PLC by The Thomson Corporation (Thomson) in 2008, served as Chief Operating Officer of Thomson and as President and Chief Executive Officer of Thomson Learning's Academic and Reference

James (Jim) C Smith is the CEO of Reuters and chairman of the Thomson Reuters Foundation.

Would you say that this is a healthy situation without conflict of interest?
Would you say that media cannot be influenced by mr. Smith?
Would you say that mr. Smith agrees with the WEF's Great Reset ideology?
Would you say that the Pfizer vaccine would ever be questioned by MSM?

Let this sink in and then decide.

James also sits on the board of directors of Pfizer.

COVID FUGITIVE STILL ON THE RUN

7 NEWS NIGHTLY AT 6

slaynews.com.au

Australia News | Business | Lifestyle | Health | Local

COVID-19 positive Anthony Karam slapped with 13 charges after NSW Health ordered him to isolate

The COVID-19 positive man who was labelled as "Australia's most dangerous criminal" has been charged with 13 offences, including failing to isolate, under the Health Protection Act 2010.

THE AUSTRALIAN

London, Sydney, Melbourne, Perth, Adelaide, Hobart, Darwin, Canberra, Auckland, Christchurch, Dunedin, Invercargill, Wellington, Auckland, Christchurch, Dunedin, Invercargill, Wellington

JOKE OF THE DAY

NSW Police ask public to help find Covid-positive man allegedly refusing to isolate

WATCH VIDEO

Covid positive man on the run who refused to isolate.

Australia's public enemy no1. The country goes into a panic.

NEWS EXCLUSIVE

BREAKING NEWS COVID FUGITIVE ARRESTED ANTHONY KARAM TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

A heavily-armed force was used to arrest this dangerous man.

The master criminal was taken away by martians who have just landed on earth. They presume Anthony is our leader.

NEWS EXCLUSIVE

BREAKING NEWS COVID FUGITIVE ARRESTED ANTHONY KARAM TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

It was determined that the man did not have influenza

4x more than Covid

	2019	Rank	Median age
Influenza and pneumonia (J09-J18)	4,124	9	88.8

abs.gov.au/statistics/health/causes-death/causes-death-australia/latest-release